ABSTRACT

A system and method of determining a common neighborhood of users sharing a common activity from a plurality of users is provided. The system and method may be used to predict, for a user in the common neighborhood of users, a potential activity from the activities

5   of at least one other user in the common neighborhood of users.

512481_1